

"A fast-food place that didn't make you feel sick after you ate."

"Eat good while eating fast!"

"Eating healthy isn't easy... but we've found an alternative for you."

How We Got Here.

So we were driving around in our beat up 1988 Oldsmobile, looking for something to eat.

But not just anything. We wanted the All American meal - burger, fries and a shake - and without the side order of guilt.

After driving what seemed like 400 miles, EVOS was born.

We decided to create a place where family and friends could enjoy a great tasting All-American meal made with healthier ingredients and cooked without the excess fat.

A place where you could feel great about yourself and the world around you.

A place that promised to have fun, not take itself too seriously, and really give back to the community.

That place? We call it EVOS.

We hope you enjoy the food as much as we do.
